Description

Manfred Herden Immobilien sells a 127 square meter store for renovation. Busy street in a central location near the Palma Red Cross. 10 minutes from the city center. Also very interesting for people who want to convert it into an apartment. It has a certificate of occupancy and energy certificate. Free of charges and can be changed of use and converted into a home. An interesting place with an interesting price of 168,000 euros. Very interesting for investors, or for people who want to make an apartment with it, or for its perfect location for merchants.
